NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—The Tax commission has amended sales tax regulations to conform with new legislation enacted by the 92d General Assembly. It was announced by Commission Chairman Frank Miller. The changes included: Sales of ice are no longer taxable; sales of merchandise to non-residents of the state are no longer tax free; the tax was removed on the sale of hearses and ambulances to non-residents where the vehicle will be used exclusively outside of the state; the sale of ships and vessels, and zepelins, are not taxed if they are to be used principally in interstate or foreign commerce. Chairman Miller said that in the case of sales tax deficiency the full fifteen per cent penalty, provided by law, will be assessed, and in the future sales tax reports will be filed semi-annually rather than quarterly.

Warden James C. Woodward of Ohio penitentiary, which has a population of approximately 4,000 inmates, reported that the institution handled a total of 491,163 pieces of incoming and outgoing mail during 1937. The figures included 137,452 newspapers and magazines received by the inmates during the year and represented a record in this classification, Warden Woodward said. Of the total incoming letters, 195,385 were passed by the censor and 2,186 were rejected.

Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy in an official opinion "clamped down" on the activities of alleged speed trap constables operating from the courts of some justices of the peace. He ruled that a constable "is without authority under the law of Ohio to pursue and arrest a person found by him in the commission of a misdemeanor within the limits of the township for which such constable was appointed or elected beyond the limits of the township for which such constable was appointed or elected beyond the limits of such township." The ruling will not affect county sheriffs and their deputies who have county-wide jurisdiction, Attorney General Duffy pointed out.

With the exception of the field artillery brigade, the Ohio National guard will stage encampments at Camp Perry from June 12 to August 14, according to Adjutant General Emil F. Marx. The 62d Field Artillery brigade will train at Camp Knox, Kentucky, from August 21 to September 4. The horses of Ohio cavalry units will be shipped to Camp Knox on July 17 for use by the Kentucky National guard cavalry while on July 30 both the Ohio and Kentucky cavalry horses will be shipped to Camp Perry for use by the Ohio mounted troops.

The Ohio Public Utilities commission reported that rate reductions during 1937 produced an annual savings of $3,806,604 for consumers. Gas rate reductions accounted for $99,791 of the total; electric rate cuts for $1,794,133; and telephone rate cuts for $1,912,680. The telephone savings were brought about as the result of hearings and orders by the commission, while the other reductions were made without litigation, it was said.

The veteran chairman of the state board of pharmacy, F. H. King of Delphos, was reappointed last week by Governor Martin L. Davey. He was first appointed a member of the board forty years ago—in 1898—and has served continuously ever since. In the two-score years of service he has not missed a meeting of the board. His reappointment must be confirmed by the senate.

London Will Not Recognize CIO

There are some things the Roosevelt-Lewis CIO can force on people by bluff in some places but it took London, O., to show administration could not be forced on employees or citizens if they did not want it. London has a new industry that manufactures auto radiators and other parts for manufacturers. It has made rapid growth and has been a worthwhile industry for the town.

When CIO anarchists made demands on the employees and tried to force men and women to sign up for their fee racket, trouble started and it did not take a gang of employees long to put the Roosevelt-Lewis CIO boys to route or in the hospital. Some escaped, the Sheriff escorted one to the county line to keep him from nursing a sore head; another was beaten until almost helpless and it was necessary to send the victim to a Columbus hospital, where he is yet a patient.

When employers as well as employees cannot have at least sympathetic support from Washington there is nothing left to do but take the law into their own hands for self protection.

Mrs. Roger Collins and Mrs. A. G. Collins were hostesses to the members of the Clark Run's club and their husbands, Thursday evening. Incidents in the lives of the patriots were given in roll call. Dr. W. R. McChesney was guest speaker for the evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

A PICTURE FROM AN OLD ALBUM

Here is a Main street view back in the days when the community and county were populated with "rugged individuals." You may not know the spot but no doubt there are a few in the community that can recall just where the picture was taken.

The building in the foreground at the left is what is now the Ridgway store. Next in the yard is the now Ridgway residence. The frame at the right, a one story was the Boyd restaurant which burned some years ago. The two story building is the Cedar Inn.

The store building was owned and occupied by J. F. Frazier. Picture taken in 1892. The boy on the horse is Kill Dunlap, then Charles Dunlap. Mrs. Charles Dunlap, then Will Wymouth and at the right Mrs. Andrew Jackson. The man at the back of the buggy is John Reif. Note the style of the buggies, the uping block and hitching rack. The picture is owned by Mrs. H. L. Nash, Xenia.

The schedule for the districts will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Stolen Automobile Is Wrecked In Chase

A Ford car belonging to Wm. Peterson was stolen last week while parked in Dayton. The motor had been left running and while the owner was out of the car thieves drove it away. Later in the week Dayton police saw the car with two young colored lads and a colored girl. Chase was given but the officers could not overtake the trio until their car met with an accident going 85 miles an hour. The car overturned several times, some of the occupants slightly injured and the car wrecked. The youths had driven the car to Kentucky and had returned to Dayton to get some clothes. All were placed under arrest.

Youth Guidance—Second Grade

Good manners should be taught to very young children, and the principles and practices of polite society should be continued throughout the whole period of adolescence; indeed it should not stop with the adult, but become a habit to follow one throughout life.

In the Second Grade to begin our discussion on True Courtesy we found out what a courteous manner is? We think that real courtesy is not put on. It is being polite and considerate of others every day.

That is why a courteous manner is always quiet and simple. A person with a courteous manner talks in a medium tone of voice, does not giggle or have affected airs of any kind.

Trying to please others is part of true courtesy. Sometimes we please most by keeping quiet and minding our own business and sometimes we are most considerate when we offer to help people. True courtesy is thoughtfulness.

It is a part of courtesy to be polite to our family and also to anyone who serves us.

Then a polite manner includes, of course, such usual courtesies in words such as, "Please," "Thank you," and "Excuse me," when stepping in front of another person. Punctuality, good table manners, and showing special consideration for unfortunate, crippled, sick or elderly people are some of the most necessary things, if we would have a courteous manner.

The Second Grade pupils enjoy talking about these everyday courtesies that we should all take the trouble to remember.

Senior Home Room

"You live to learn, yet school has more to give."

It daily urges that you learn to live. The Home Room period on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings of each week is spent in special programs on Youth Guidance.

One group of three students is responsible each week for subjects discussed.

We have during the past week been discussing the contrast and comparison of the schools of yesterday and today, the attitude of America toward Education, the relation of Home and School, the co-operation of parents, children, and teachers.

We also have had some very interesting discussions on the "Ideal student" as well as the "Ideal teacher."

REPUBLICANS HEAR MAYOR JIM STEWART

More than four hundred Republicans representing every township and town in the county enjoyed a Lincoln Day banquet Tuesday evening in Xenia at the Masonic Temple.

The address of the evening, was given by Mayor James Garfield Stewart, Cincinnati. The speaker is a native of Springfield and has been an attorney in Cincinnati for some years.

Mr. Stewart held the attention of his audience for an hour and he openly charged that the Roosevelt administration was behind a plan to make us the policeman of the world and ready for entering the conflict between foreign nations.

The Mayor urged that we should keep out of entanglements among foreign nations and that he hoped the people of this country "will insist that no President for his own prestige take the United States flag on foreign soil." It is not a question of defending ourselves against invaders, but these should be opposition to leading our boys overseas again.

Mr. Stewart called attention to the fact that Franklin Roosevelt, ever since has occupied the White House, has continued to preach class hatred, anything to arouse one class of people against another. He compared the attitude of Roosevelt to that of Lincoln who during his trying time in the Civil War refused to permit use of his administration in preaching hatred of the south.

Mr. Stewart was introduced by a former Xenian, Mr. Robert G. Adair, son of Charles Adair. Harry D. Smith, president as Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee. Other guests at the speaker's table were Judge Roscoe Hornbeck, London; Judge Frank Geiger, Springfield; Miss Margaret Baker, Springfield; Charles Waggoner, Lebanon; Rev. W. R. Allen, Trinity M. E. Church and Alphonse Schumacher, St. Bright Church, and L. C. Ridley, Wilberforce; Edward C. Turner, former secretary general, and Clinton Boyd, Middletown, were introduced. Splendid vocal music was furnished by the Woman's Glee Club, Wilberforce, and a number by two small daughters of William J. Fudge, New Jasper.

GOVERNOR HOLDS UP INVESTIGATION

The Senate investigation committee is making headway in uncovering what is known as "legal graft" in state departments, regardless of the fact that Gov. Davey has tried to smother the investigation. Graft in coal purchases warrant grand jury indictment. Witnesses testified they were forced to "donate" before they could do business with state departments. Road contractors were given contracts at their own bid and the state purchased "hot-mix" at prices twice what Cleveland and Columbus pay. Graft figures in the purchase of liquor and goods of a quality lower than Kentucky bootleg are offered at state liquor stores. The state purchases only liquor where known Democrats represent distilling companies. No purchases are made direct from distillers without the middle profit—the legal graft. The committee will soon get to the highway employees being compelled to donate a part of their wages to the Democratic bosses each week.

FARM BILL CONFUSION ON CONFUSION

Both Ohio senators are reported as expressing themselves as bewildered at what the New Deal crazy quilt farm bill means, let alone its intentions. Where the language of the bill is not confusing it is contradictory if the sentiment of leading senators and congressmen is correct. To have heard Sec. Henry Wallace in his radio explanation is even more confusing for he himself made no claims and predicted that not enough money, 500 million dollars, would not finance the plan. He suggested processing taxes such as the farmer had under the first AAA when he paid taxes to repurchase the things produced on the farm. Wallace still has hopes of controlling the weather with the New Deal and he dreams of the day when high prices for farm products will result in low prices to the city consumer.

Any fair minded man, farmer or urban resident that heard Wallace on the air when he connected the tariff situation with the distress of the farm situation, must admit that if the tariff has done so much injury to the farmer, and with a New Deal Fifth Avenue playboy in the White House and a New Deal congress by a large majority, why then does not FDR and Wallace ask their controlled congress to repeal, correct or change the tariff laws he complains about? The facts are the only change congress has made in the terrible tariff laws was placing control of all imports in Roosevelt's hands. He alone orders such imports in quantity and quality as he pleases and importers must contribute to the Democratic campaign fund. If as Wallace says our farm problems based on present tariffs, why all this New Deal fumbling around about the farm situation if it is not the ground work to find places for fourteen thousand more political appointees to "farm the farmer" at fancy salaries. The number necessary to enforce the new farm bill is placed at fourteen thousand by members of congress in debating the bill and the New Deal has not denied the statement.

When we have a score or more of New Deal unsuccessful or probably 100 per cent failure farmers riding the county telling the rest of the farmers just what they can plant, how much and even tell them when they can and cannot sell certain grain crops, then will the New Deal be in full swing in Greene county.

If either Roosevelt or Wallace, or both of them, were open to appeal, reason or would accept a common sense suggestion, all we need is to have the world market restored for our surplus cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco. It cannot be denied but that the New Deal shut out by secret trade treaties during the first AAA farm act all markets for our surplus crops. Today the New Deal is importing wheat, corn, pork and beef to be sold in competition with what the American farmer produces. The same brand of treaties made secretly now link us with England and France to make us the policeman and furnish the man power for the next World War. To cover up blunders of the AAA and the New Deal Communistic administration Wallace "hopes" the American farmer will face the curtain and not peep under it or look behind it.

THE PUZZLING FARM BILL

There may be some sense in the federal farm bill which has passed the House and now is before the Senate. But if there is it will take the mythical Philadelphia lawyer and a lot of others between Boston and San Francisco to discover the meaning hid away in 62,000 words and 121 pages.

The ordinary farmer certainly cannot make it out, and the federal lawmakers themselves say they can't understand it. The farmer is required to refrain from selling his products above the limit fixed, but just what he may do with his corn, wheat and other feed above the quota is not clear.

For it seems apparent that he cannot feed it to live stock or poultry. If he has too much corn this year and puts the new corn in the crib with whatever is left over from last year, and if he does the same thing with other grains, how is he to separate the old from the new, the quota from the excess?

As the bill stands it means that an army of government questioners and surveyors will visit every farm. They will want to know, and the farmer must answer, how he came by every grain of corn or wheat, what he did with it all, how much he sold or fed and a variety of other data.

It will be possible, of course, that a farmer starts his steers on grain and hay produced before the quota is established and finishes feeding them on quota grain and hay. How can it be determined how much of the fat has accumulated from non-quota food and how much quota rations?

Will the American farmer who does not willingly comply with the last details of the bill be known soon as a kulak, as such a man is known in Russia? And if this thing goes on will not the government finally take practical, if not actual, possession of his farm as has been done in Stalin-land?

—Ohio State Journal.

SMALL BUSINESS ASSERTS ITSELF

President Roosevelt staged a show in the Department of Commerce Auditorium this week which got out of hand and wrote its own ticket.

It was based on an untenable assumption: That big business, with whose leaders he has been in conference, had one point of view, and so-called small business men had another, and must be called in conference. They think alike, as is of common knowledge, as the recent Forbes Magazine poll over thirteen States shows, and as their own resolutions attest.

What, above all, they think may be very simply stated: The President made a tragic blunder, which has come out in the wash of the recession, when he forced through Congress the act which compelled them to pay out their surplus earnings in dividends or have them confiscated through taxes—in other words, made them face a rainy day without umbrellas. When he demands that they keep up wages and employment by dipping into their surpluses, he is whistling to the wind, for he has been taking their surpluses away.

Now his spokesmen talk about helping small business out with Government loans. This is mere face-saving. The way to help all business, big and small, is for Mr. Roosevelt to admit error and urge Congress to repeal the surplus tax act. But rather than admit that he ever was wrong, he stages so-called "conferences." The latest one got away from him.

—Cincinnati Times Star.

Every young man would do well to remember that all successful business stands on the foundation of morality.

—H. W. Beecher.

The Ohio Democratic banker that sold 600 acres of land recently and invested the entire amount in Canadian bonds must be given credit for being smart and just a bit ahead of all the hounds that as land owners and tenants must now be vassals under the Modern Stalin, better known as Secretary Wallace. The banker had no desire to be regimented even by one of his own party and especially by one that could not make a success of his own business. The "Wallace Farmer" was sold at sheriff's sale months ago.

Back in the frantic days of FDR when it was a crime to own a ten dollar gold piece or even a gold certificate, there was but one honest man in the one hundred and twenty-five million people, and that man was the Squire of Hyde Park, who buried the gold in Kentucky and he has since held the keys to the vault. Now that the Roosevelt panic is here with more than eleven million persons unemployed, the Squire thinks it might be healthy to liberate a small amount of the precious metal. The Roosevelt panic can be traced from one source to the fact the nation has gone broke purchasing gold from foreign nations at the FDR fabulous and factitious price of $35 an ounce. Russia has been selling this nation her gold at the fancy price when it only cost $4 an ounce to mine and market it. FDR is not to spend this $100,000,000 in gold, just going to spend the "value of it," what ever that is and what ever that means. The answer is inflation. With a burst bubble in his hands the magic trickster is trying to pull a rabbit out of his hat.

With administration backing Congress is asked to pass the O'Mahoney bill to force licensing of all business. Now that the American farmer is to get a "Number" in the Wallace plan, with another number for a license to hunt on his own land, it is just as well that business be licensed also and be on par with the farmer. Then we want the "hours and wage" law to apply to farmer, manufacturer and merchant, with the wash-woman and domestic included.

When a handful of farmers on public pay roll some where in the New Deal met in Columbus weeks ago and voted to give 100 per cent approval, as representing every farmer in Greene county, on the regimentation farm bill passed by Congress and signed by Roosevelt, Wednesday, Greene county was represented as in full accord. But when we look over the vote in the Senate both Sen. Vic Donahey and Sen. Bulkley voted against it. Did these two Senators represent the farmers in Greene county, or did the handful of "farm the farmers" that met in Columbus? Every tub will soon be on its own bottom and every farmer will soon be told when, what and how much he can plant this year under the Russian dynasty in Washington. You will also be told at harvest time just when and how much wheat you can sell and the elevators will be told how much they can purchase that day. An interesting summer nears.

If industry is to be subjected to the New Deal Straight-Jacket by congressional legislation we might as well have all the Communistic nostrums at one time and have the anxiety and misery over with. We are going into the Roosevelt panic deeper and deeper each day until the Democrat of two years ago now wonders just what it is all about and what one man with his lunatic following can do to his country and especially his party. When a well-known Ohio Democrat made it his business to journey to Washington following the attempt to get Sen. Donahey to announce for governor of Ohio, a Roosevelt scheme, to save his distressed party, some plain statements were made, one was that the first thing that was needed was a cleaning out of the foreign blood in the administration cabinet and dropping the thousands of Communists that had been parked in all departments of government. It was not done the Ohioan made it plain that even Charley Sawyer could not save the state. A Democratic manufacturer holds about the same views on the economic situation as does a Republican. Neither being on the government pay roll they are concerned about the future of their investment.

"That Man Hoover's Here Again," so says a Springfielder as he stood in front of a Springfield store room in the center square of the city. Thinking the owner was taking a view of the front towards a contemplated improvement, our suggestion brought the above statement. Empty store rooms in the heart of the city now hardly reflect New Deal prosperity as compared with three months ago when everything was rented.

"We are naturally interested in the contest in the printer's union to unseat Charles Howard as head of that organization. The printers have for years been connected with the American Federation of Labor and one of the most conservative unions in the country. When Roosevelt and Lewis cooked up the CIO to break into the AFL, Howard was made secretary of CIO. He has since tried to throw the printers into CIO but failed so far. Now approaches the time for re-election and Vice President Burk looms as Howard's successor. The ballot is being taken among unions and so far Howard has not even made a good showing. Howard has done much in the past for his union but when he became imbued with the Russian Communistic theory advocated by Roosevelt and Lewis he lost his following.

Chas. P. Taft to Address Students

Students of Cedarville College have been invited to participate in the eighth annual Life's Meaning Conference at Antioch College on Saturday and Sunday, February 19 and 20. Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati lawyer and son of the late President William Howard Taft, Jesse H. Holmes, Pennsylvania socialist and pacifist and emeritus professor of philosophy at Swarthmore College, and William G. Simpson, former minister and author of "Toward the Rising Sun," will be the speakers.

This unusual institution, the purpose of which is to foster serious consideration of the aims and values of life, is under the leadership of Bishop Paul Jones, religious leader on the Antioch campus. The Conference was inaugurated eight years ago by Bishop Jones and ex-President Arthur E. Morgan, now chairman of the TVA. The divergence of views among the three speakers for this season is significant of the scope of the program. Taft is prosecuting attorney of Hamilton County (Cincinnati) and a member of the City Commission. Holmes is a philosopher and as been active on the Friends Service Committee. Simpson has spent most of his life in direct search of an ethical and religious pattern of living. Taft, Holmes, and Simpson will not only make formal addresses but will define and discuss their philosophies informally with students. There will be group discussions and forum breakfasts with each man so that members of the Conference may have personal contact with the leaders. The two-day session will conclude with a panel discussion at which the three speakers will meet together to answer questions from the audience.

Mrs. Charles McDorff and daughter, Nell and granddaughter Voyne McDorff visited Martin Weiner and mother, Sunday.

Cincinnati Man

Killed Monday

Marion A. Smith, 30, Cincinnati, was instantly killed when his auto was hit, Monday, by a Pennsylvania train at the Spring Valley crossing on route No. 42.

Smith was advertising manager of a sign in his city and suffered a fractured skull, jaw and left arm.

Coroner H. C. Shick, who returned an accidental death verdict, said flasher signals at the crossing were in operation and that the victim apparently saw the train because tire marks on the highway indicated the car skidded about 20 feet after the driver applied the brakes.

Gold and a Pretty Girl In Technicolor

Gold may be where you find it but a pretty girl like Olivia de Havilland is rare. George Brent discovers in Warner Bros. new technicolor masterpiece, "Gold Is Where You Find It" which is scheduled to open at the deluxe State theater in Springfield with an "Owl Show" preview, Friday night, February 18, for a week's engagement. The gentleman with Miss de Havilland and Brent above is Claude Rains who plays an important part in the story. Photographed in Nature's own brilliant colors, "Gold Is Where You Find It" is a story of action, romance and adventure. Margaret Lindsay, John Lisle, and Barton MacLane are prominent in the supporting cast.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY Lesson

Lesson for February 20

CHOOSING COMPANIONS
IN SERVICE

LESSON TEXT—Book 3:7-19, 31-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, my sister, and my fellow-servant.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Twelve Men Who Went With Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Twelve Men Who Went With Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Working With Others for Christ.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Comradeship in Christian Service.

"God can save a man who is all alone on the top of the Alps." So spoke one who sought to discourage another who wanted to give his life for Christian service. No one questions that God could thus carry on His work in sovereign power, and that there are times when He does that very thing. But ordinarily God works through men. It was "the sword of the Lord, and of Gideon" (Judges 7:18).

What a glorious, inspiring truth it is that God calls men into companionship with Him for service. Sinful and weak though they be they may become strong and holy, and do valiant service for Him.

I. The Need of Christian Workers (vv. 7-11).
Although the hostility to Christ was growing apace among the religious leaders, the people thronged about Him in the hope they might have deliverance from the devil and from disease. The need was so great that the Lord Jesus now prepared to call those who were to be His fellow-servants.

The multitudes are in just as desperate need of Christ and of the ministry of His church today. Why, then, do they not crowd the churches and press in around His servants? That is the question over which leaders of the church are puzzled. There may be many reasons, but we suggest two as being at least worthy of careful thought. The first is that we live in a time of apostasy. In the time of Christ men had only begun to hear His message of deliverance. In our day men have heard and heard again and have hardened their hearts.

Another reason is that in many, perhaps most, instances, the church has so far separated itself from the Lord that it has no power. Needy men are not interested in the dead observance of religious forms. They want to see the workings of the power of the Most High God. Whether men know their need or not, whether they through our churches or men, their very need of Christ should impel us to serve the Master in reaching them. The love of Christ should constrain us.

II. The Call to Christian Work (vv. 12-19).
Much might be said at this point but we must limit ourselves to two thoughts. Note that the Lord chooses his own workers; we do not choose to work for Him. Then he encouraged by the fact that He chose men of widely differing gifts, temperaments, and personal characteristics.

Then we note that He called some of unusual ability, others with little ability; some learned, and some unlearned—fishermen, a tax-gatherer, and others of various occupations. Note that none were by profession preachers. What a comfort it is to those who are in Christian work to remember that it is not what we are or may have been that counts; it is what Christ is and what he can do through us!

III. Preparation for Christian Work (vv. 31-35).
God has many ways to prepare His servants—but it seems that they all experience the heart-breaking disappointment of misunderstanding and the heart-warming joy of intimate fellowship with the Lord.

Look at verse 21 and you will realize that the family and friends of Jesus thought He was crazy because He devoted Himself so wholeheartedly to the service of His Father. Is it not strange that if a man becomes a scientist, or a philosopher, or a man of letters, or a man of business, or a man of law, or a man of medicine, or a man of any other profession, that he should not give his life to the greatest of all occupations open to man—service for Christ—his friends and relatives try to deter him by calling him a fanatic?

Beautiful beyond words is the other side of our picture. Those who serve Him are "to be with Him" (v. 14). He sends them forth to preach, and gives them power. Yes, they even become the members of the most intimate family circle. "Behold . . . my brethren" (v. 34).

Vain Regrets and Grief
Forget the years are slipping by, and Life is all too brief—A time will come when it's too late for vain regrets and grief.

Come Apart and Rest!
Even the busiest lives must have their breathing times, when the ordinary strain of effort is relaxed.

Unconscious Benefaction
It may well be that the good we unconsciously do exceeds the sum of all our purposed benefactions.

Something On The Side

The State Liquor Control Board, as reported, takes a most unusual position. To the gasoline station it will not give a license to sell intoxicants as a sideline whereas a license will be granted to sell booze in a roadside restaurant which sells gasoline as a side line. On first, second, and third glances this thing does not make sense. The mixture of gasoline and booze takes place in both cases and the mixture is just as ready whether the source is a gas station which sells intoxicants on the side or an intoxicant selling restaurant which sells gasoline on the side.

Gleanings

"Sir Frederick Treves, a noted English army surgeon said that in the march of the thirty thousand British soldiers who went to the relief of Ladysmith during the Boer war "those who were the first to fall out were not the fat or thin, the old, or the young, or the short or the tall, but those who drank. So well marked was the fact that the drinkers could have been no more clearly distinguishable if they had worn placards on their backs."

Forty-six of the one hundred and twenty counties of Kentucky have voted dry since repeal. The state leads the nation in the production of whiskey.

The distilling industry now and always has preached moderation. Such "preaching" is always in vain for the distiller is in the business to manufacture and sell all the liquor possible.

You are only beaten when you stop trying.

LEGAL NOTICE

Edward Speckman, whose last known place of residence was 1003 Isabelle St., c/o Wm. A. Berlin, Newport, Ky., and Simon Kontos, Speckman, c/o Civilian Conservation Corps, Pinedale, Wyo., will take notice that on the 11th day of February, 1938, the plaintiff, May Speckman, filed her petition against them in the Court of Common Pleas, Greene County, Ohio, being case No. 21,631, of said court, for the partition of the following described real estate: Situate in the County of Greene, in the State of Ohio and in the City of Xenia, and bounded and described as follows:—

Being part of lot No. 29, Beall and Perkins addition to the City of Xenia; beginning at the S. W. corner of said lot at the intersection of Church Street; thence easterly with the North line of Church Street 35 feet; thence southerly to an alley running between Gateway and West St.; thence easterly said alley westerly 35 feet with the east line of West Street, formerly Mill Street; thence easterly with the east line of West Street, to the beginning.

SECOND TRACT: Same county, state and city. Being part of Military Survey No. 2212, and part of lot originally laid out and designated on the recorded plat of Beall and Perkins addition to the City of Xenia, the part hereby conveyed being described as follows: Beginning at a stone . . . E. corner to Bradford's (now Lutz) lot in the South line of a ten foot alley; thence running with the South line of said alley N. 75° 00' E. 9 feet and 4 inches to a stake in said line; thence parallel with said Lutz east line S. 11° 10' E. 30 feet to a stake; thence parallel with the south line of said alley S. 13° 50' W. 9 feet, 4 inches to a stake in said Lutz line, thence with said Lutz line N. 11° 10' W. 30 feet to the beginning containing 2214 square feet.

The prayer of said petition is for the partition or sale of the premises described, and for equitable relief.

They are required to answer said petition not later than the 31st day of March, 1938, or judgment will be taken against them.
